

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Man of It.

Her bonnet was pink,
I think,
Or was it a shade of blue?
Her jacket was gray,
I heard,
I'd tell you if I knew.
She had on a velvet dress,
I guess,
Or was it a velvet?
The bodice was striped,
I heard,
I'd tell you if I had seen.

"Where were my eyes that day?"
You say.
They were filled with her peerless grace;
Her eyes were so bright,
(That's right)
I saw nothing else but her face.

The chapters were: Mrs. Portia Robinson, Mrs. Levin Joyner, Mrs. Edmund L. Benson, Mrs. Stuart Cooke.

Mrs. Wayt Entertains.

Mrs. Harvey Randolph Wayt, of No. 208 South Third Street, was the charming hostess at one of the prettiest teas of the winter yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6.

The parlors were beautiful with crimson and green decorations, the Christmas greens being prettily blended with the slow of American Beauties.

Mrs. Wayt, who was gowned in white mull and lace, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. B. Harvey, Mrs. Stuart Michaux and Mrs. J. Blythe Moore. Assisting in serving were Messrs Helen Gray Watson, Kate Kent, Sarah Chamberlayne and Virginia Watkins. Mrs. McDonald, and Mrs. John Stayman presided at the punch.

A large number of society people were in attendance, and the affair was altogether delightful.

Jones—Gatewood.

A very pretty marriage will take place this evening at 7 o'clock in Seventh Street Christian Church, when Miss Annie Dracilla Gatewood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Emmet Gatewood, will become the wife of Mr. Daniel Selden Jones, of Newport News. The Rev. J. J. Haley, pastor of the church, will officiate.

Miss Margaret Virginia Gatewood, of Hampton, will be maid of honor, and Mr. Thomas B. Jones, of Newport News, will be best man.

The only other attendants will be Drs. Alexander H. Hays, of West Virginia, and Edward S. Cowles, of Williamsburg, and Messrs. William L. Cowles, of Williamsburg, and Messrs. William L. Cowles, of Williamsburg.

The Virtue of Mastication.

(From "The Tribune" Correspondent.)

New York, Oct. 5th.
Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale University, has been conducting experiments upon nine Yale students since last January in order to determine the effects of the thorough mastication of food. The results have found that their endurance is increased 50 per cent., although they took no more exercise than before the experiments, and although they diminished their consumption of flesh foods to one-sixth the original quantity.

These experiments emphasize the advantages of the scientific food, GRAPE-NUTS, which, when eaten properly—that is, crisp and dry, direct from the package, with a little cream or milk—requires thorough "chewing."

Grape-Nuts food comes in delicate crisp granules, intended to be ground up by the teeth. The work not only preserves the teeth, but brings down the saliva from the gums, so necessary in the primary work of digestion.

If your teeth are fit, chew, chew, until the food is liquid and insists on being swallowed. If teeth are faulty, soften Grape-Nuts with cream or hot or cold milk and allow to stand a minute soaking, but even then don't forget to chew.

Many people say (and it is true) that when they eat Grape-Nuts they seem able to digest not only that food, but other kinds which formerly seemed indigestible.

There's a Reason for

Grape-Nuts

O'er the Smooth Enamelled Green.

(From "Arcades.")

By JOHN MILTON.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

O'er the smooth, enamelled green,
Where no print of step hath been,
Follow me, as I sing
And touch the warbled string;
Under the shady roof
Of branching elm star-proof
Follow me.
I will bring you where she sits,
Clad in splendour, as befits
Her deity.
Such a rural queen
All Arcadia hath not seen.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1903. One is published each day.

Hampburg, and Fritz Banks, of Madison, Virginia.

After a Northern tour Mr. Jones and his bride will make their home in Newport News.

Party a Success.

The progressive euchre party given Monday evening by the Senior and Junior Oakwood Memorial Associations was a decided success socially, as well as financially.

The entire lower floor of the Virginia Club was thrown open for the entertainment of the guests, and formed a stately background for the merry crowd of card-players who gathered there. The decorations in the red and white of the Confederacy were unusually beautiful.

Festoons of hunting, fastened with Confederate flags, were at each roadway, and bowls of red and white roses or carnations were in the centre of each table. Thirty tables were engaged, the prizes being won by Miss Claudia Selden and Mr. Mullinger.

After the same delicious refreshments were served by a bevy of pretty young girls.

As a result of this entertainment a considerable sum will be added to the fund for entertaining the Confederate veterans at their reunion next June.

College Reopened.

The Woman's College has reopened after the holidays, all the faculty and most of the students having returned promptly. Dr. James Nelson, the president returned yesterday from a ten-days' visit to Dr. and Mrs. Sparks Melton in Augusta, Ga.

His host and hostess gave a delightful reception in his honor, and the entire visit was most enjoyable.

Professor and Mrs. M. A. Martin spent the holidays with the former's mother, Mrs. William Howers, in Caroline county. The fortnightly recital of the music and elocution pupils will take place in the college chapel on Saturday evening next.

Stay-at-Home Whist.

The Stay-at-Home Whist Club met Monday evening with Mr. John Tyler, five tables being engaged. Highest score was made by Mrs. Bland Spotswood Smith and Mrs. S. W. Travers.

The club will meet next week with Mrs. S. W. Travers, at No. 62 West Franklin Street.

Chapter to Meet.

The Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, will hold an important meeting in Lee Camp Hall this morning at 11 o'clock.

Anniversary Meeting.

The Richmond branch of the Mission to Lepers will hold its fifth anniversary meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Centenary Methodist Church. All the members are earnestly requested to be present, and visitors from other branches who may be interested in the work of the mission are invited to come and investigate the need for such activity.

Masquerade Dance.

"River View," the home of Mrs. H. B. Willis, in Wilmington, N. C., was the scene of a most pleasant entertainment on Thursday evening last in the form of a masquerade party.

A number of guests were in attendance, and the costumes were varied and both pretty and amusing.

A prize was awarded for the best and prettiest costume, and Miss Susie Mills was declared the winner.

Numerous games were played, and dancing helped the masqueraders to spend the evening in a very pleasant manner. The following ladies and gentlemen were present:

Messrs H. B. Willis, Collette Love, Bessie Love, Janette Love, Mary Lawther, Bella Lawther, Susie Mills, Madge McDougall, Isabel McDougall, Addie McDougall, Addie Chadwick, Maggie Murray, Mary Bell King, Mary Campbell, Ida Black, Margarette Mills, Mercy Newkirk, Sadie Sloan, Kate Sloan, Lucy Moore, Rosa Herring, Fannie Herring, Mary Darden, Sallie Murphy, Mary Murphy, Annie Willis, Uella Willis, Annabel Campbell, and G. Almeria No. 11 South Newkirk, David Sloan, G. I. Rawlins, Blas Williamson, J. M. Bass and S. Foster, Jr.

In Honor of Mrs. Rainey.
A very delightful event of last week was the informal social given last Friday evening by a number of young people of the West End in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith, No. 11 South Rowland Street. Mrs. Ella Rowland Rainey, who has won many friends during her residence in the West End by her charming personality, was the guest of honor.

The evening was pleasantly spent in music and games. The parlors, hall and dining-room were prettily decorated with palms, ferns, potted plants, Christmas overgreens and shadow lamps.

The table decorations were especially attractive. In the centre was a pyramid of fruit resting on a large centrepiece of Renaissance lace. Small green baskets, holding strawberries and crimson candles, further added to the effect.

Those present were: Misses Grace Fritzsche, Lottie Slaughter, Mary Dalton, Grace Slaughter, Bettie Bottoms, Annie Walsh, Mamie Stauda, Ada Branch, Carrie Stauda, Nellie Smith, Maggie Tinsley, Ethel Smith, Mrs. Alla Rowland Rainey, Mrs. W. T. Gordon, Mrs. W. G. Smith, Mrs. A. E. Long, Messrs. Doran, Ernest Moody, Moody, Benjamin Long, Lewis Moody, Gordon, Arthur Long, Richard Gentry, W. G. Smith, Richard Rowland and W. C. Gentry.

Called Meeting.

There will be an important called meeting of the Valentine Mothers' Club this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to complete arrangements for the reception to be given in the club-rooms on the evening of Wednesday, January 16th.

Euchre Party.

Miss Beattie Dillard, of Walkerton, Va., gave a euchre party Monday evening in honor of Miss Eva K. Duvall, of Richmond. Supper was served at 8:30 o'clock. The table was beautifully decorated with ferns, white and red flowers, and with evergreens. Those invited were: Miss Nannie Turner, Miss Edmonia Cooke, Miss Lina Walker, Miss Marvin Gay, Miss Sarah and Maggie Dillard, rett, Misses Sarah and Ben Walker, C. Messrs. Walter Wilson, Ben Walker, C. Caldwell, R. A. Caldwell, Clyde and Larkin Garrett, Owen and Ellington, of Manchester. Honors of the game were even between Miss Turner, Miss Duvall, Miss Cooke and Mr. Wilson.

Entertain at Cards.

Mrs. William H. Zimmerman entertained at cards last evening, and later had her own at a most delightful dinner at the Jefferson. There were eighteen in the party, including the hostess, and the evening was greatly enjoyed.
